Memories, QUOTES, TRIVIA

By Mayor
Scott Douglass with contributions from the Mayor's cousin
Mannon
Burks

I have had the privilege of writing this article since the first publication. The purpose is to be informative with an occasional sideline, i.e. a bad joke or an old quote. This month is different. As we go into the last quarter of an unprecedented year in modern American history, how are you feeling? The restriction on social activities, the school situation, an election year, loss of a family member or friend to the virus – is it any wonder that stress is real! The memory of normality is more and more prevalent, more about memories later. 2020 will be a year of strong memories. So let's take a few minutes and look back, because most memories are personal. You can do that reflection on your own. To get us in the mood to look back, how about some famous quotes and not so famous ones, a few family ones and just silly ones to remember (and perhaps forget at the same time). In other words, a little fun exercise. Enjoy!

Famous

- Einstein: Continue doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results is insanity.
- Mark Twain: The secret of getting ahead is getting started.

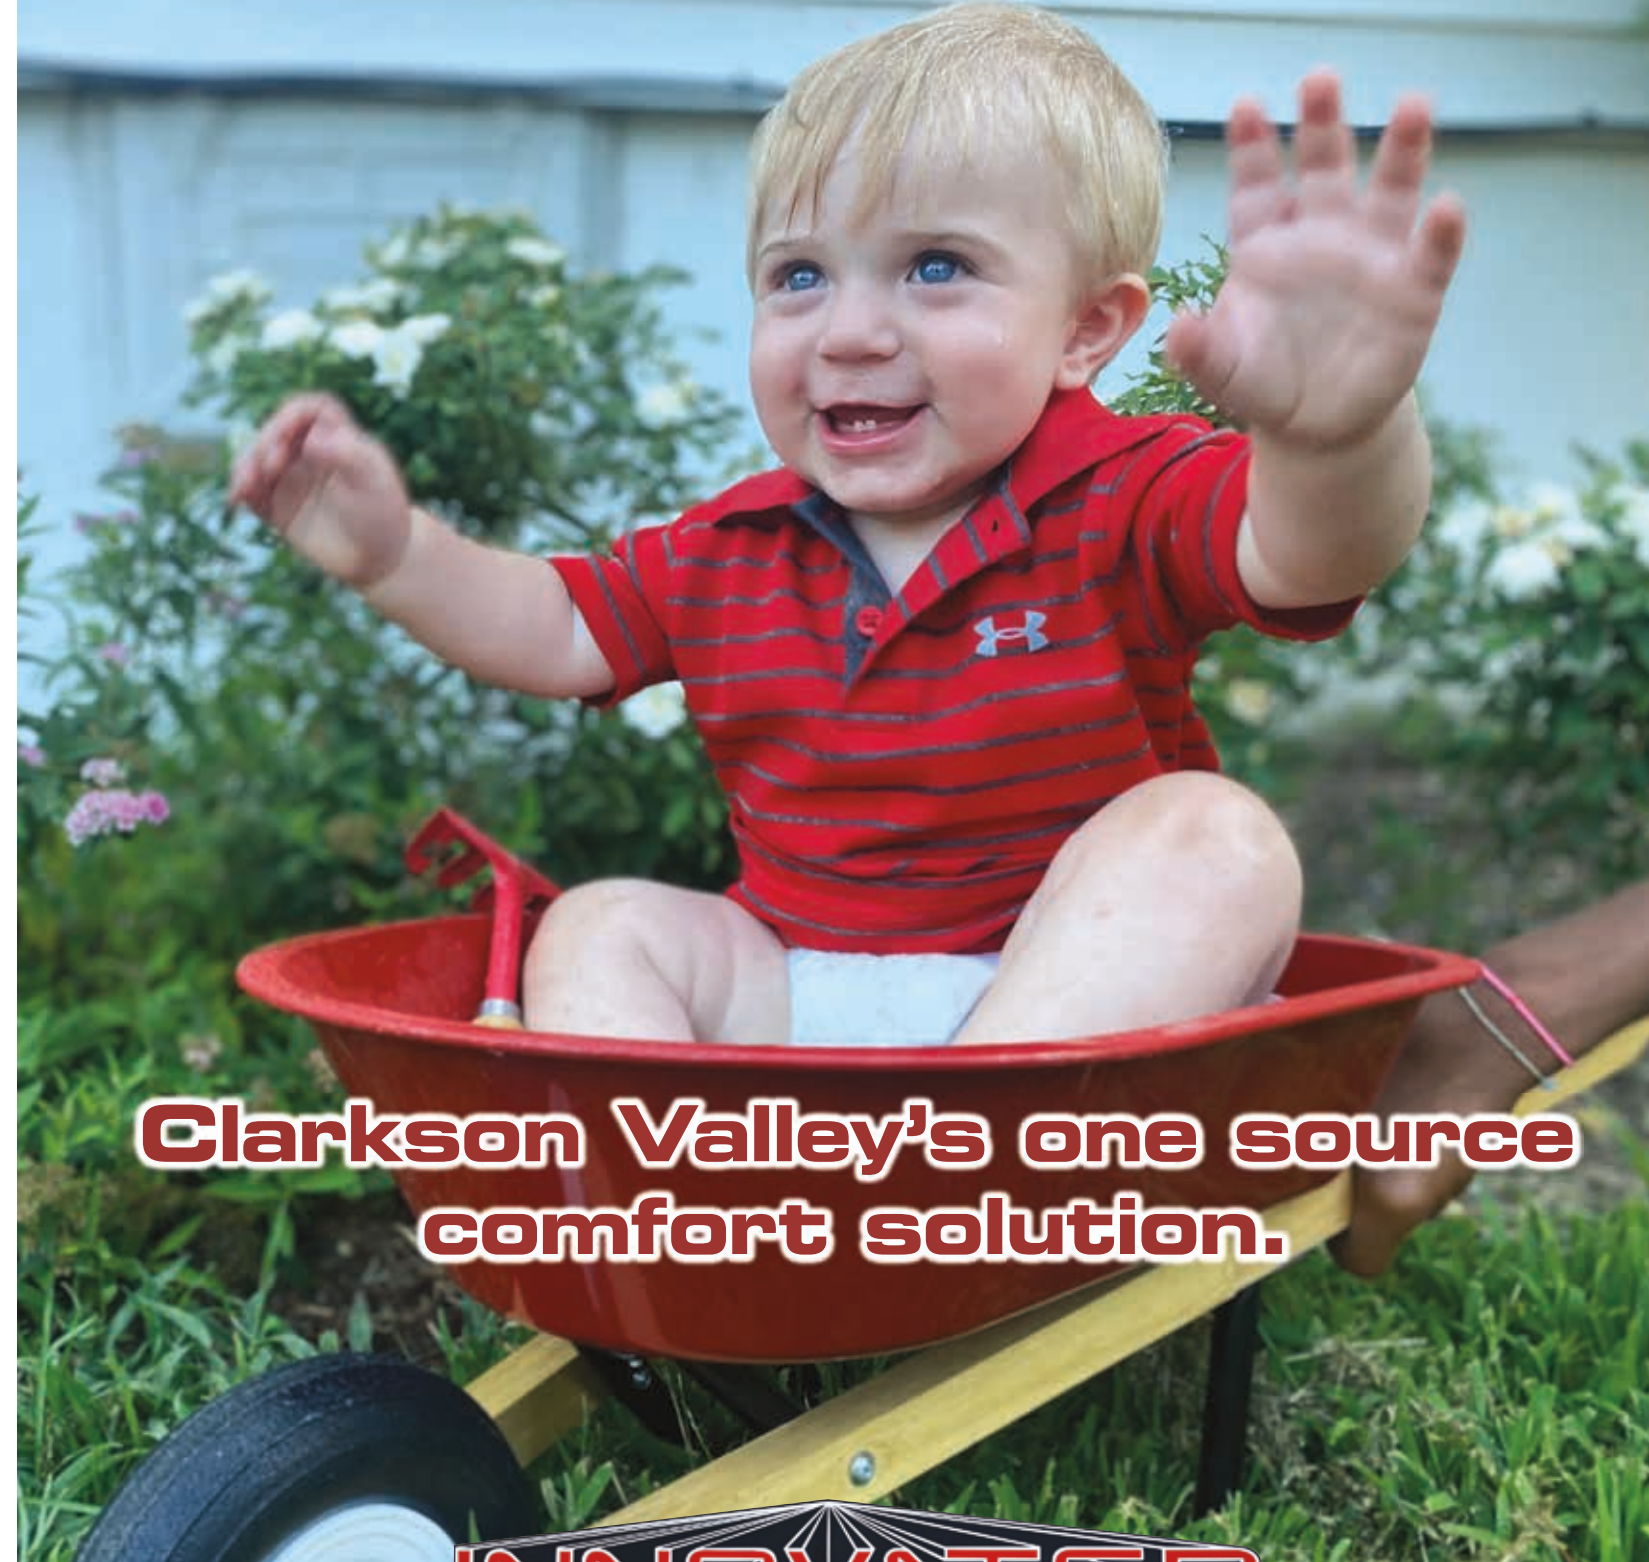

- Helen Keller: Life is a daring adventure or nothing.
- F. Scott Fitzgerald: Nothing is as obnoxious as other people's luck.
- Remember some of these?
- Keep your eye on the ball and your nose to the grindstone.
- The person who thinks he knows it all irritates those of us who do.
- I can handle temptation, I yield to it.
- Sign on a bar: If you are drinking to forget, please pay in advance.
- It's hard to believe America was funded to avoid taxes.
- I don't exaggerate, I just remember BIG.
- I play golf just to aggravate myself.
- Every family tree produces some nuts.
- If it ain't broke, don't fix it.
- If you want a rumor to be delivered, whisper it (nowadays it's social media).

Silly (fun, too)

- Do you know the brothers that live with me? Art and his brother Rytis; or my cousins, Bend Over and Stand Up.
- Johnnie, did you wash behind your ears?
- If ignorance is bliss, why aren't more people happy?
- Life is short, eat dessert first.
- A closet is a place for hanging things when you run out of doorknobs.

How's that for a quick trip? I know you have many more quotes that remind you of the good ol' days. Memories are a big part of life. They help identify who we are. They give us stability. They can be sad but more often leads to joy, thankfulness and a laugh with family and/or friends. Memories can give strength to persevere – a baseline for future decisions. Yes, it's good to take time to consciously reflect and realize it's a worthwhile exercise. So, let us look forward – to make this last quarter more to our liking – salvaging (if needed) 2020 to be a better memory.

Meet the de Vries family, Eduard, Roxanne, Laurent (15) and Madeleine (12) of Kehrs Mill Trails! A career move originally brought the family from Amsterdam to Maine about 10 years ago; the family moved to Clarkson Valley in 2019. The de Vries are nature lovers so the bucolic Kehrs Mill Trails neighborhood is a perfect fit.

Eduard is VP IT Business and Consultancy at SSM Health. He's pursuing a second master's degree at SLU, is an avid reader and enjoys running on the Katy Trail. Roxanne, also born in Holland, but raised in Texas is a stay-at-home mom who owns a web design company that has small business clients throughout Europe and the US, publishes blogs, and is currently working on certifications for a career in Salesforce..

Eduard and Roxanne have a full house with two children, Laurent and Madeleine, as well as Windsor the rescue dog and two adopted cats. Laurent is a sophomore at Westminster, loves to play basketball, lacrosse, run cross-country, and interact with friends over the XBOX. Madeleine is a 7th-grader at Crestview Middle School; she enjoys gymnastics, dance, lacrosse, and making TikTok videos with her friends.

The de Vries have found a few local favorite eateries including BAO, and Corner 17. They love spending time in Forest Park to eat at the Boat House, walk, bike and check out the museums. The family has adopted the hometown Cardinals and Blues, but also cheer on the New England Patriots and Boston Celtics. New England and Hilton Head Island are favorite vacation spots.

Holland is a small country, so everyone growing up speaks multiple languages. Eduard speaks Dutch, English, French, and German; Roxanne is working hard on adding Spanish and Italian to an already impressive trio of English, Dutch, and French. The kids speak Dutch and are both learning French at school.

During quarantine, Roxanne and Eduard took great advantage of their home workout room. Not only did they avoid the "quarantine 20," but actually lost 20 pounds each!

Collin is currently the Goalkeeper for Marquette's Varsity team as well as his Scott Gallagher 04 Boys Elite Amlong team. I am blessed to be able to play the sport I love at this level."

Collin was recruited from Lou Fusz to play For Scott Gallagher. "We have very strong team, ranked 10th in the country! We have been invited to play in the national playoffs in Sarasota, Florida, next year which I am looking forward to very much," states Collin.

Collin also loves waterskiing, wave running, and snow skiing. He says, "To get better at your talent, you must put in the work when your not playing the games which also keeps you out of trouble!"

living spaces

Homeowners Rob and Liz Bezjak took this real estate advice seriously when they purchased their home in Forest Hills and designed an addition with a multi-tiered outdoor living space to maximize the stunning golf views. Where else can you watch three holes of live golf being played simultaneously, from home? A par 3 plays towards you from tee to green, while approach shots land on a par 4, and drives are struck on the par 5. The panorama is a golfing paradise with stately oak trees framing the vistas.

The outdoor living space was designed for views from every angle, with several levels for entertaining. Those seated on the top tier can easily see over the lower patio level, to take in the golf and park-like setting. Extra-wide steps can also provide "stadium" style seating if the whole gang stops over. An aggregate stone wall creates a sense of privacy and helps to define the space framing the foreground to enhance the views, while protecting the built-in flower beds and container gardens from the deer and wildlife. Treehouse views from inside and out, expansive floor-to-ceiling windows on the home's addition anchor the patio dining alcove.

Cooper BROWN

Article by Cooper with a little help from his human Lynn Brown, resident of Kehrs Mill Trails | Photos by Silvia Strashimirova
Sponsored each month by Petropolis Pet Resort

Hey there! Cooper here. I live with my big family of humans, horses, cats and my canine brother and sister in the Kehrs Mill Trails neighborhood. I know I look scary but that's my job. I weigh over 200 pounds. When dinner is served to my humans, I am tall enough to set my head on the table so I get dibs on scraps. Yum! My favorite place to sleep is in a king-sized bed with my canine brother Pip and sister Mabel. Sometimes we make room for the head humans to sleep with us. My brother, Pip is a 25-pound mix of assorted canine ancestry. He is so tough! No one messes with him! My sister is an English Mastiff, like me, but prettier, and she is also tough.

We love to run in the yard, chasing deer, turkey, squirrel and groundhogs. I still bark at the horses because sometimes I forget they are part of my family. Oops! If you throw a stick, Frisbee, ball, fire log, or just about anything, I'll run and get it, but you won't get it back, I am not a Retriever, more a destroyer. When people come for visits they either want to stay away from me (and my drool) or to have a photo taken with me. I am a good sitter and stayer for treats but treats don't last long, so hurry with the photos or bring lots of treats!

PET EMPOWERMENT TIP

LEARN THE SIGNS OF STRESS

As a pet parent, it's important to be able to read your pet's body language. Some lesser-known signs of stress in dogs are: yawning, drooling, excessive shedding, panting, lip licking, showing "whale eye" (where you can see the white of their eye), and raising one paw. Learn these signs and keep watch for them.

AN AREA GOLF PROFESSIONAL WHO CAPTURED THE HEARTS OF

around the club

Submitted by Ryan Schaben, Membership Director at Forest Hills Country Club
Sponsored this month by St. Louis Foundation Repairs

He gained the respect of his peers and is certainly one to be well-regarded – such was the man most simply called “Dutch.” Dutch Harrison was one of the better players on tour for over two decades. A member of the 1947, 1949 and 1951 Ryder Cup Teams, he was very familiar with the St. Louis area, particularly after winning the 1953 Western Open at Bellerive Country Club. During his career, he garnered 25 professional wins.

Lured to Old Warson Country Club as a head pro in 1954, Dutch immediately gave the new Club an aura that would last for years. He left Old Warson in 1960 to take a job at the Olympic Club in San Francisco only to return to the region in 1964 as the Pro at the new Forest Hills Country Club where he would remain through 1974.

Dutch Harrison was the first Golf Professional at Forest Hills. Though he technically retired from a very successful career with the PGA Pro Tour, after becoming the Head Golf Pro at the Club, Dutch continued to compete in the PGA circuit during the winter months, winning his last U.S. Senior Open Tournament in 1966. He was brought to the Club by the founding fathers because of his acclaimed golfing talents and his ability to teach his skills in a wonderful manner. During Dutch’s watch as Forest Hills Golf Pro, it was not uncommon to see a PGA Touring Professional on the course taking lessons from him.

In 1973, Dutch’s golfing career both on the course and at Forest Hills came to an abrupt end after suffering a stroke. He was truly blessed by the support and affection offered to him by the friendships he had established over the years. Sadly, Dutch passed away in 1982.

Today, Forest Hills honors Dutch’s memory in several ways. During a Clubhouse renovation years ago, all Members agreed that the new lounge should bear Dutch’s name and display all of his memorabilia. Members can participate in the Dutch Harrison Memorial Golf Classic and golfers can swing through the Dutch’s Hut “turn grill” on the golf course to grab bite to eat or refreshment.

Membership at Forest Hills Country Club is by invitation only.

Are you a member of Forest Hills Country Club? We’d love to spotlight you! Email Bill.Tuttle@n2pub.com for more details.

The Magic of Yoga

By Shauna Osborne

As a near-lifelong yoga enthusiast, I can't help but break into a wide smile at the mention of this most peaceful and centering practice. Yoga, from the Sanskrit word for "yoke" or "union," is an ancient tradition combining breathwork, meditation, and various poses, or asanas, to unite the body and mind, resulting in greater mental clarity and bodily relaxation. First introduced in the U.S. in the late 1800s, nowadays, there's a yoga class for everyone: hot, aerial, beer...even goat! More popular than ever, the practice of yoga offers numerous evidence-based health benefits for faithful yogis.

Physical

- Improved cardiovascular health: Yoga is known to lower blood pressure, blood sugar, and heart rate, and has also been linked to lower cholesterol and triglyceride levels.
- Better sleep quality: Regular yoga practice can improve sleep quality through its impact on melatonin secretion, a hormone that regulates slumber and wakefulness. It also diminishes common sleep impediments like anxiety, depression, and stress (discussed below), and activates the parasympathetic nervous system, which is calming and restorative.
- Improved flexibility and balance / reduced chronic pain: The most obvious physical benefits of this practice, flexibility is improved through the repetition of asanas, gradually loosening tight muscles and connective tissues that can lead to poor alignment and chronic pain. Yoga also increases proprioception (the perception of the body in space), which leads to better balance and posture overall.

Mental / Emotional

- Decreased stress, depression, and anxiety: A core principle of yoga is presence – that is, being present in the current moment, not worrying over the future or past. Further, multiple studies have shown yoga practice to decrease the secretion of cortisol, the primary stress hormone that influences serotonin levels, and monoamine oxidase, an enzyme that breaks down neurotransmitters.
- Healthier eating habits / body image: Another fundamental tenet of yoga is mindfulness, and this practice travels with yogis from the mat and into everyday life choices. Mindful eating means taking time to note the physical sensations of each bite, encouraging healthier eating behaviors, better self-esteem, and elevated bodily awareness.
- Clearer mental acuity / concentration: The breathwork and meditation involved in yoga work to calm the mind and body, keeping attention on the present and distracting thoughts away. The discipline of focusing on the breath and yogic asanas enables practitioners, over time, to remain more engaged and alert in meaningful situations and release feelings or information not serving them.

Relax. Restore. Rejuvenate.

Mask-Making merriment

A THOUGHTFUL ENDEAVOR TURNS INTO A BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

Article and photos submitted by Westhampton resident Grace Andrews
Sponsored each month by Pathfinder Church & St. John's School

During quarantine, Grace and Beth Andrews began their own mask-making company called, Flamingle Fabric Creations. The name was inspired by Grace's favorite animal, the flamingo. While wearing masks isn't really much fun, their hope was to allow others to "fla-mingle" with their friends at a safe distance and while wearing a mask that reflected their own unique style. The two have sewn together for many years making dresses, bags and other fun items, but mask-making began with the mother-daughter duo making over 50 masks for Beth's Bible study in the spring. After delivering all of the masks to people's homes, the Andrews girls were hooked on making masks. They enjoyed keeping people safe and brightening up their days with the colorful masks.

Their personally designed non-medical masks are made of two layers of cotton with an added layer of non-woven fusible interfacing, a filter pocket, and a metal nose wire. Not only is each mask carefully handmade, but a portion of their proceeds also go towards Operation Christmas Child, an organization the Andrews family has supported for many years. Operation Christmas Child is an organization that helps provide gift-filled shoeboxes for young children in impoverished countries.

An unexpected highlight for Flamingle Fabric Creations was the opportunity to create colorful kids masks for a learning pod in North County. All 50 masks were covered with fun designs that brighten the kids' days as they were able to attend school.

In addition, during the COVID-19 pandemic kids tended to spend more time at home with their toys, so the Andrews girls created matching masks to fit American Girls and baby dolls. They hoped to provide the young girls with something fun from the crazy pandemic.

So far Flamingle Fabric Creations has focused on making face masks, but are already planning for the holidays with hand-sewn treasures such as headbands, drawstring bags, and much more! Their favorite part of their new business is seeing the joy of their customer's faces. You can buy their masks @flaminglefabriccreations on Instagram. They hope to help more people in the future during the COVID pandemic and beyond!
